The World in Brief

Third Great Debate Promises Kennedy-Nixon Verbal Battle

HELENA (AP)—The third debate between presidential contenders Richard Nixon and John F. Kennedy will be broadcast on all network Montana radio stations from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., and televised from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., tonight. All are Montana times.

SENATOR JOHN KENNEDY

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy today defended his policy on Quemoy and Matsu in a sidewalk interview on his way to have breakfast with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Kennedy reiterated his stand that the offshore islands had been declared strategically indefensible by top military leaders and that the United States should not risk a world war by committing itself to their defense.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Kennedy's Republican opponent for the presidency, has called this a policy on the road to war and surrender.

VICE PRESIDENT NIXON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon seemed to be fighting his presidential campaign along the coast of Asia—and there are indications he'll expand his operations in that part of the world.

Nixon's advisers are convinced the vice president has hit a mother lode of pure political silver in the Quemoy and Matsu issue and that he has Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy at a disadvantage.

BATTIN BACKS FARMERS

GREAT FALLS (AP) — James F. Battin Wednesday night promised that if elected to Congress he would hold a series of press-conference farm-leader meetings in eastern Montana.

"I know the farmer has a lot of problems and that one of the biggest issues facing this next Congress will be a good farm bill," the Billings lawyer-legislator said.

"I believe that only the farmer can help build good farm legislation," his rally text added.

GRAYBILL BLASTS GOP

LEWISTOWN (AP)—Leo Graybill Jr., running for the U.S. House, said Wednesday most arguments against placing a medical program under social security are similar to those advanced when social security was introduced under President Roosevelt.

The Democratic nominee's remarks were prepared for a Lewistown appearance. He said the need for providing health protection to the nation's 16 million persons over 65 is recognized by everyone.

MAN OUTRUNS BEAR-ALMOST

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo (AP)—A grizzly bear chased park ranger Tom Milligan around a tree. Milligan won—almost.

Milligan reported the bear caught up with him long enough to bite him on the seat. Just a scratch, the ranger said.

GOLDFINE RULED INSANE

BOSTON (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Sweeney Wednesday ruled industrialist Bernard Goldfine mentally incompetent to stand trial on income tax evasion charges and ordered him committed for treatment.

Political Science Prof Analyzes Gubernatorial Hopefuls' Stands

By JIM McALLISTER

Thomas Payne, professor of history and political science at MSU, says there are no sharply defined issues dividing the candidates for governor of Montana. Republican Don Nutter has to defend the record of the Aronson administration, and Democratic candidate Paul Cannon naturally has to attack it.

The biggest single point of the attack, Payne said, concerns projects in the state. Cannon's attack is based on the assumption that the road building has not been well handled by the present administration. He claims that this project could have been carried out with more roads being built at a lower cost, thus saving the tax payers money while giving them more and better roads.

Nutter, defending the road building, is trying to show that the administration's policy is basically sound.

Unemployment compensation is another issue receiving attack by the Democrats. They claim the Aronson administration has created loopholes in the Compensation Act. Many individuals not entitled to be covered by it are receiving benefits.

The Republicans have received a strong talking point by Cannon's unwillingness to answer questions in a column in the Daily Missoulian. They say that Cannon is not qualified to be governor and that he is just a political figurehead. At the same time the Republicans praise Nutter as an experienced self-made man who has demonstrated an ability to get results. Whereas Nutter has the enthusiastic support of the Republicans, Cannon lacks full support of his party.

Both sides seem to be concerned with the farm and agriculture industry problem. Nutter wants to step up research and find out what other uses can be made of agriculture products in the state, thus promoting new industry in Montana.

Cannon claims to be a friend of organized labor and appeals to labor in terms of his past record.

Both sides, in Payne's view, recognize the need for education to receive a fair share of financial support. Nutter would favor a sales tax if necessary to support education. Cannon is opposed to any sales tax.

Neither candidate seems to have a clear cut program. No one has specified how the salaries of teachers would be raised or how needed school buildings would be built.

Central Board Told of New Planning Body

A new student-faculty committee will work at long range planning for student union requirements, Paul Ulrich, ASMSU president, announced at Central Board last night. The committee will work as a subcommittee of the Student Union Committee.

Those appointed by President H. K. Newburn to the committee are chairman, Richard Shannon, associate professor of economics; Vincent Wilson, professor of health and physical education, David Rianda, student union program director and students Barbara Wheeler, Ed Whitelaw, Denis Adams, Rena Trost and Ulrich.

Central Board also allocated $4,134.67 from the general fund for various expenses for the coming year. The appropriation will cover clerical expenses, office supplies, activity cards and booklets, travel and convention, annual banquet, gifts and awards, scholarships for ASMSU officers, planning, traditions, senior class and miscellaneous.

Jeff Lenci was approved as chairman of Hometown News committee to replace Jane Borden, who resigned. Ingrid Viking, Margaret Kem and Bob Munson were also approved for membership on the committee.

Central Board approved a request of the Parachute club to be qualified to appear before Budget-Finance Committee to ask for funds. The Board also voted to underwrite lodging expenses up to $2 per man of the 14-man University of Washington soccer team which will play the University soccer team here Saturday.

General admission is $2 and tickets may be bought at the Lodge, Orvis Music House, Baker's Music Center, the Musical Note, the MSU School of Music and at the ticket office of the University Theatre.

Williams is currently recording for the Kapp Record Company. Perhaps his best known record is "September Song" which will be included in his program Sunday. Williams is stopping at MSU while touring schools and universities throughout the Northwest.

Williams' program will feature songs from the "Fabulous Fifties" which include: "Memories Are Made of This," "Catch a Falling Star" and "Fascination." His show tune medley will present "Gigi," "The Music Man," "My Fair Lady" and "The Pajama Game." The remainder of the program will be composed of classics.

Esperanto Study Group To Meet Sunday in Lodge

First meeting of the Esperanto Study Group will be Sunday at 4 p.m. in Committee Room 3 of the Lodge.

Response to an article in the Kaimin early this week indicated a great deal of interest in the international language, according to Bob Davis, graduate journalism student who will conduct the study group.

The course, which requires only a 60-cent text book, is open to any person interested in learning Esperanto. Classes will be one hour a week. Ten weeks should give the student a good working knowledge of the language, Davis said.

Sunday's lesson will consist of pronunciation and basic grammar. Persons missing one or more study periods may make up the work by outside reading, Davis said.

Anyone interested in the course should contact Davis, LI 9-8182, to order a textbook, and be present at the Sunday meeting. Visitors are invited to attend even if they do not wish to take the course.

"Arms and the Man" plays Friday night only in the University Theatre. The players will also present a Gay Nineties Variety Show, Miss Donner said.

"Shellgame" is back by popular demand, she added. University students will get another chance to see Douglas Bankson's premier play this Saturday and Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the Masquer's Theatre. All seats are reserved. The box office is open daily at noon, Miss Donner said.

Editor Speaks Out

Guy Mooney, editor of the Missoulian, gave his side of the political turmoil in a telephone interview yesterday, saying Paul Cannon, democratic candidate for governor, is trying to distract attention from his own short-comings by downgrading the press.

Mr. Mooney said the Lee Syndicate newspapers operate autonomously, that indeed some are democratic, and there is no collaboration against any of the candidates. The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb., and the Morning Democrat, Davenport, Iowa, are staunchly democratic, he said, and he supposed they will back democratic tickets completely.

In answering Mr. Cannon's charge that the Political Forum run on the Missoulian's editorial page intimidates candidates if they do not answer the questions, Mr. Mooney said every candidate had an equal chance. Of the 30 candidates queried, 26 responded without fail. He said the only stipulation was to keep answers to 500 words.

Mr. Mooney said the editorial stand of the Missoulian in no way affects the news columns and he cited yesterday's coverage of the democratic rally.

"The Missoulian considers itself independent," he said "and we will probably support a few democratic candidates as well as republicans." He said Lee Metcalf, democratic candidate for the Senate, showed enthusiasm for the Political Forum and even asked if more questions could be sent to the candidates.

In answer to Mr. Cannon's charge that the questionnaires were sent out too soon after the primary last June, not giving candidates a chance to organize, Mr. Mooney said the Political Forum did not start until August. The queries were sent early, he said, to give candidates plenty of time to organize their answers.

How Tough Americans?

By DAILY UNIVERSE, BYU

The physical plight of American youth is "definitely serious" according to a report relating comparisons of British and American youths published recently.

The report, according to the Medical Tribune, was given at Rome during the Olympic games and represents a sampling of 18,500 students from the two countries ranging in age from 10 to 18.

According to the report, British boys scored on an average higher than all but 30 per cent of American boys, and British girls scored higher than all but 23 per cent of American girls.

The students were given a complicated physical fitness test which required them to do pull ups, sit ups, shuttle runs, a 50 yard dash, standing broad jumps, softball throws and 600 yard run-walk.

In all but softball throwing the British excelled.

This survey, startling as it is, is not news to a growing number of people who have become alarmed in recent years over the flabbiness of American youth in comparison to their European cousins.

Some years ago President Eisenhower launched a program to emphasize physical fitness after seeing a survey showing how far behind Americans had fallen.

Somewhere, something went wrong. We started sitting around TV sets instead of playing "kick the can" and riding to school instead of walking.

We suspect that college students have a tendency to forget their bodies in an effort to develop their minds. This is wrong—no one can claim full development of his potentialities if he ignores his own body. We sometimes become so wrapped up in our studies that we don't take time to do a little exercising or walking.

Word of the Week

The formation of Judicial Council was the result of many meetings between University officials, the Deans of Students, faculty, psychologists and interested student groups. J-Council was put into operation in the spring of 1956 and has functioned since that time. Both students and the administration desired the formation of J-Council, and they have attempted to work together in its operation. Its purpose has been twofold; to handle violation of the liquor rules, and to educate the students as to what is expected of them.

All cases that come to J-Council originate in the Dean of Student's office, and with rare exception, the accused has pleaded guilty to the violation before he is brought before J-Council. Therefore, the J-Council does not determine guilt at all, but instead, recommends to the Dean of Students the punishment that ought to be given. Due to the fact that there are no specific rules as to violations and punishments, J-Council has had to counsel each person individually and not rely so much on precedent.

Some of the decisions of J-Council have included suspension from school, social restriction (campuses), work detail in the library and have required the student to attain a certain grade point average.

There have, on various occasions, been suggestions that J-Council should expand its role from the handling of only liquor violations to new fields such as cheating, stealing and general misbehavior. It is my hope that J-Council can sometime in the future fulfill these hopes, but this can be accomplished only by showing that this student group can accept that responsibility.

It has also been suggested that the members of J-Council act as a police force and initiate its own cases. But the present J-Council has no intention of acting in this capacity.

I believe, that in spite of all controversy that has evolved around J-Council, its existence is justified from the fact that each year since it was formed there have been fewer violations of the liquor rules.

Note: This week's Word of the Week was written by Brad Dugdale, chairman of Judicial Council.

Sigma Chi Rocks Phi Delt Gridders In Challenge Game

Pledges of Sigma Chi downed Phi Delta Theta pledges 15-0 last week in a non-intramural touch football tussle. The contest resulted from a Phi Delt challenge to any fraternity pledge class on campus.

After a scoreless first half, a third period touchback gave Sigma Chi a 2-0 lead. A completed forward pass to guard Butch Cummins increased their lead to 8-0 in the third period.

Mike Nybo tallied six points in the fourth quarter on another pass completion. The conversion was good, making the final score 15-0. Chuck Miltenberger and Steve Dickey provided staunch defense for the Phi Delt. Jay Harding sparked the Sigma Chi defense in the rough contest.

Sigma Nu pledges have also challenged the Phi Delt, but a game date has not been set.

Effigies at Idaho

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — No fewer than five effigies of Idaho football coach J. Neil (Skip) Stahley were reported dangling from campus posts in the past two days.

One dangled in front of the administration building, another near the student union building.

The first effigy went up late Saturday night after the green and winless Vandals lost their fourth straight to Utah State. It was torn down quickly, as were the added effigies Tuesday.

Phi Delt, Clods Lead Leagues

Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Nu are leading the intramural football fraternity league. The Phi Delt, with a 4-4 record, are last year's intramural champs. Sigma Nu posts a 3-0 record.

The Clods and Hi-Landers, each with a 2-0 records, pace the action in the A League.

Foresters Plan Big Tree Crop

Foresters plan to cut 2,000 trees for this year's ball, John Burns, publicity chairman, said.

The tree cutting committee plans to cut all the trees in one day. Previously two or three weekends have been required. Club members will meet at the Forestry Building Saturday at 7 a.m. for the trip to the cutting area in Pattee Canyon. Three trucks and seven chain saws will be used in the operation.

Besides the tree cutting committee, Burns said 20 other committees are busy with preparations. A new feature this year is production of a 1500 ft. 16 mm sound motion picture covering all phases of the ball.

Thirteen new members have joined the University Parachute Club. The total enrollment is now 28 including 15 old members.

Coeds are also welcome to join the organization. One coed, Toni Richardson, of Flagstaff, Ariz., successfully fulfilled membership qualification in 1959.

Before new members are permitted to skydive, they must receive the full ground and lecture training on parachute techniques. This training has already started and will last most of the quarter. The trainees' first five jumps will be static line. It is hoped the new members will be ready to make their first static line jumps the end of fall quarter.

The ground training is being done at the Aerial Fire Depot west of Missoula on Sunday afternoons. Anyone wishing to participate can do so by contacting any member of the University Parachute Club.

Filters for flavor

—finest flavor by far!

THE TAREYTON RING MARKS THE REAL THING!

Tareyton has the taste—

Dual Filter
does it!

HERE'S HOW THE DUAL FILTER DOES IT:

1. It combines a unique inner filter of ACTIVATED CHARCOAL . . . definitely proved to make the taste of a cigarette mild and smooth . . .
2. with a pure white outer filter. Together they select and balance the flavor elements in the smoke. Tareyton's flavor-balance gives you the best taste of the best tobaccos.
